HERGÉ
THE ADVENTURES OF TINTIN
THE SHOOTING STAR
What a wonderful night!

A shooting star! Quick Snowy, wish!

And there's the Great Bear...

Yes, but jolly hot! You'd think it was mid-summer.

If I were you, I'd stop wishing and look where I was going.

Hey, Snowy, just look at that big star.

How extraordinary... there's a star too many in the Great Bear!

A star too many in the Great Bear... It beats me!

Which one?

A bear? I'm not scared... Where?

You know, Tintin, there are millions and millions of stars. What's one more or less?

I'm intrigued. As soon as I get home I'll ring up the Observatory.

Hello? Is that the observatory? Can you tell me... I've just noticed a very large, bright star in the Great Bear... I wonder...

Ask him why it's so hot, too.

Hello?... What?... You have the phenomenon under observation? I see... And... Hello?... Hello?... Hello?... They've hung up!
Very odd! Why did they ring off so abruptly?...
Crumbs, how hot it is!
Phew!...

Why Aid
they so abruptly?

Crumbs, how hot it is!
Phew!...

All very peculiar... and I'm going to get to the bottom of it. Come on, Snowy... to the Observatory.

Definitely, it's bigger than ever!

I'd like to have a word with the Director, please... Impossible, the Director is engaged.

That's the limit! Slamming the door in my face!

You again?... I told you before, the Director's engaged. He can't...

That doesn't matter now... The Observatory's on fire!...

Good gracious! Where?
Here, come and look...

What nerve!
How strangely quiet and empty it all is... as if there weren't a soul...

Ah, there's somebody.

A judgement! Woe!

Excuse me, sir, could you tell me...

That's what I told them: "It's a judgement!"

A judgement! Yea!... A judgement, and don't you forget it!
Excuse me, I'm looking for the Director of the Observatory.

Ssh! It's me!

It's me, but ssh!... Silence! Don't disturb my colleague; he's deep in some very complicated mathematics. While he's finishing, have a look through the telescope, if you like; it's a sight worth seeing.

Let's have a look.

Oh!

Good heavens, sir! It's horrible... horrible?

Yes, in one sense it's horrible...

It's enormous! Simply enormous!

And its hairy legs!... It makes me shiver to think of them!

Its legs?... What legs?

What legs?... Why, belonging to that gigantic spider?... Spider?... Is this your idea of a joke, young man?

Come and see for yourself!

By the rings of Saturn!... You're right... It is, quite definitely, a spider!...

You see now!

How extraordinary! Extraordinary!... It has characteristics of Meta segmentata... At least... No! It's an Araneus diadematus! An enormous Araneus diadematus!

Anyway, it's a spider! Ugh! What a monster!... And it's travelling through space... Supposing it...??
Hello, Professor... I've found the answer... It was a spider walking across the lens! ... It's gone now...

A spider!... A harmless little spider! That's all it was, scaring them out of their wits!... This'll kill me!

Come and look now...

Well?

It looks like... It looks like a huge ball of fire...

It is a ball of fire! ... A VA-A-A-A-AST ball of fire!

Yes, it's a gigantic mass of matter in fusion...

But why is it growing bigger... before our very eyes?... Because it is growing, isn't it?...

Yes!... That fire-ball is going to collide with the Earth!

Great heavens! But that'll mean...

...the end of the world, YES!
I've finished, sir. Here are the calculations. The collision will take place tomorrow morning at 0812 hours and 30 seconds precisely.

The end of the world... At 8:12 a.m. That's good... and I, Decimus Phistle, have determined the moment at which the cataclysm will fell us! Tomorrow, I shall be famous!

But... It's impossible. You... I mean... Perhaps you made a mistake in your calculations.

Sir!!! Made a mistake! Us? You presume to...? Very well! Check them!

I... I'm sure they're all correct Professor!... I'll take your word for it! Goodbye!

The end of the world!

Hey, Snowy? What's the matter?

HELP!

Just in time!

Rats!... Millions of rats coming up from the sewers!... Absolutely panic-stricken!

Whoa!... They've gone!... What about Snowy... What's happened to him?

Snowy!
The tyres... they've burst, from the terrific heat...

Oh, so there you are! Well? What are you doing there? Why don't you come when I call you? Come here!

Great snakes! He... he can't move... It looks... It looks as if he's paralysed!

Help, Tintin, Help!

My poor Snowy!

What on earth...? Oh, now I see! This frightful heat has melted the tar...

Confound the star!

Poor things!... If only they knew!...

Judgement is upon us! Repent! The end of the world is at hand!

I am Philippus the prophet! I proclaim the day of terror!... The end of the world is nigh! All men will perish!... And the survivors will die of hunger and cold!... There will be pestilence, and famine, and measles!
Look here Mr. Prophet, why don't you go home? You'd be better off in bed! ...

You hear that? He dares to set himself up against Philippus the prophet... An advocate of the devil! A son of Satan! A tool of Beelzebub!

Get back to Satan, your Master!

Oyez, there will be a plague! Bubonic plague!... and fever! The end of the world is upon us, servant of Satan!

That fellow gets on my nerves!

Here we are, home at last!

What a blinding light!

OWW!

Crumbs! The window frame is so hot I burnt myself! ...

Poor old Snowy... dying for a drink. And that poor little plant's all wilted.

The end of the world, Snowy!... The END of the world!... The end of the WORLD! D'you understand, Snowy?

Return to your Master, the Prince of Darkness!

There!... Now I hope he'll leave me in peace!

I think I'll have a bit of a rest. I'm absolutely worn out...

Plew!... I've had enough of this.
I don't know how you got in, but I know jolly well how you're going out! And get a move on!

You sit down! And take a look at what I've brought you.

Yea! Behold the judgement! An enormous spider!

Get out! Leave me alone!

Great snakes! I was dreaming... the clock woke me up!

Exactly eight o'clock! Twelve minutes more... At least... Now I come to think of it, my clock loses...

...seconds... pip... pip... pip... At the third stroke it will be eight twelve and twenty seconds... Pip... pip... pip... At the third stroke it will be eight twelve and thirty seconds... pip... pip...

Help!

This is it! The end of the world!!
We're dead!...

No!... On second thoughts, we aren't dead... and it isn't the end of the world... It's nothing but an earthquake!

Oh?... Is THAT all it is?

I wonder how they'll explain this one at the Observatory!... Hello!... Hello?... Hello?... The telephone's not working... Come on Snowy, we're going along there.

Hooray!... Hooray! It's only an earthquake!...

All right! All right! I'm coming!

Hooray! Hooray! The end of the world has been postponed.

Hooray! Hooray! It's good to be alive!

Bungler!... Dunderhead!

What has he done?
The idiot!

He made a mistake in his calculations. The meteor was 46,000 km away from Earth, instead of colliding with it and causing the magnitude 13 earthquake. Never mind, Professor! You've still got it in your veins! But tell me:

- Why did it miss Earth?

It has just been developed, sir. It is, indeed, remarkable. How extraordinary! But, look there! Now it's all Greek to me.

Excellent! Excellent!

I've heard of the spectroscopic. Let me see the instrument. That enables us to discover elements in the stars. This is a spectroscopic photograph of the meteorite. I've isolated a new metal!... or less... if you like. My friends, I have made a sensational discovery. I have just discovered an entirely unknown metal. This is a spectroscopic photograph of the meteor. Each group of lines is characteristic of a metal. Those lines in the centre represent the metal uranium. It lives in the centre of the Earth.

Tell me, Professor: do you like my bull's eyes?
The polar station on Cape Morris (on the northern coast of Greenland) reports that a meteorite has undoubtedly fallen in the Arctic Ocean. Seal-hunters saw a ball of fire cross the sky and disappear over the horizon. A few seconds later the earth shook violently and icebergs cracked..."

"By the rings of Saturn!"

"It has fallen into the sea!... It has been engulfed by the waves! And with it, my discovery! Proof of the existence of phostlite."

"So, that's that, Snowy. The phostlite's sunk."

"This is the end! My meteorite! My phostlite!"

"Come on, Snowy, we'll leave him."

"Poor Professor Phostle. He's terribly upset because his meteorite's fallen into the sea."

"He's even forgotten to give us a bull's-eye."

"Now what's up? Floods, this time? Or is it just a water main cracked by the earthquake?"

"These bricks will make stepping stones to keep my feet dry."

"Great snakes! Why on earth didn't we think of it before?"

"You see this brick, Snowy?"

"Of course I can see it..."

"Watch!..."
Well! What d'you say?

I think that's a pretty silly joke!

Look at it, Snowy... sticking out of the water!

I can see: it's sticking out. So what?

That brick is the meteorite. The water is the Arctic Ocean. Now d'you see what I mean, Snowy?

He's as mad as a hatter!

Well... What is it this time?

Look! Look at it!.. What is the brick?

That brick is the meteorite. The water is the Arctic Ocean. Now d'you see what I mean, Snowy?

He's as mad as a hatter!

Professor! Professor!

I've suddenly had an idea, Professor. An idea?

The meteorite that came down would be enormous, wouldn't it?

Of course! The violence of the earthquake proved that.

Then there's still hope. Part of such a huge mass would surely stick out of the water?

By the rings of Saturn, you're right!

We must make a search and find the meteorite. We must organize an expedition. I'm sure we shall be able to obtain the capital we need from the European Foundation for Scientific Research.

We must get down to organizing the expedition at once. Will you help me?

I'd be glad to.

Some time later...

A scientific expedition including leading European experts is leaving shortly on a voyage of discovery in Arctic waters. Its objective is to find the meteorite which recently fell in the Arctic region. It is believed that a part of the meteorite may be protruding above the surface of the water and the ice...
The expedition will be led by Professor Phostle, who has revealed the presence of an unknown metal in the meteorite. The other members of the party are:

- Professor Paul Cantonneau, of the University of Paris;
- Senhor Pedro Joás Dos Santos, a renowned physicist, of the University of Coimbra;
- Tintin, the young reporter, who will represent the press;
- Senor Porfirio Bolero y Calamares, of the University of Salamanca;
- Herr Doktor Otto Schulze, of the University of Munich;
- and lastly, Captain Haddock, President of the S.S.S. (Society of Sober Sailors) who will command the "Aurora," the vessel in which the expedition will embark.

Three days later...

Well, Snowy, the "Aurora" sails tomorrow.

We'll go aboard for our last night before setting off for Arctic waters.

I don't think much of this expedition; it'll be jolly cold up there.

Hello... someone's running down the gangplank... That's funny... Stop! Who are you?

Hey there!... Stop!

Stop!...
Hello, where's Snowy got to? ... Snowy ... Snowy! SNOWY!

Hello, Captain. I've just seen a man bolting off the ship. He made off when I challenged him!

Wooah! ... Wooah! ... Wooah!...
Dynamite!... Lucky for us someone put out the fuse.

Good old Snowy!... He... well, he did his best, Captain...

Someone wanted to blow up the ship, or at least damage it badly. But why?

One thing, if I ever lay hands on that pyromaniac, he'll see a good display of fireworks!

Anyway, we must be on our guard. I suggest you go the rounds.

A good idea...

Yes, we must keep our eyes open.

You gangster, you!... You won't escape me!

Come on out, centipede! Let's see you in the daylight!

I've got you, you rat!

Help! Help!

Professor Phostle, allow me to introduce Captain Haddock... You must excuse him, but we've just discovered an attempt at sabotage...

An attempt at sabotage? Can that be possible?

Yes, a stick of dynamite on the deck!

Good gracious! It's Professor Phostle!

I shall complain! I shall complain to the Captain!

Professor Phostle!
Fortunately Snowy had the sense to pull out the fuse. But come and see...

What is it?

The dynamite! It's gone!...

Thundering typhoons!

It was there only two minutes ago!... I simply can’t understand it. Extraordinary!

Did you pick something up from the deck there?

... No...

Ding ding ding

Hey! The ship's bell!

Ahoy there! Captain...

I am Professor Cantonneau. I would like to speak to the Captain.

That's me. I'll come down.

Nobody here!

Someone's calling...

BANG
But... that's my suitcase!... MY suitcase. I left it in your cabin.

Tell us, Professor: what happened?

I... I... don't know... A... frightful blow... like some huge weight falling on my head...

It is the judgement come upon you! Philippulus the prophet gave you warning!

He did it!... He dropped the suitcase!

And here is a pretty rocket I found. Now we'll have a beautiful fireworks display!...

The dynamite! The crazy fool! He's taken the dynamite!... We'll all blow up!

There's not a moment to lose!

There!... In half a minute this will go "whoosh"!
You! I recognise you! You're the servant of Satan! Keep your distance, fiend!

Whew! That was a close shave! I thought it would explode before it hit the water!...

Great snakes! What's he doing? In heaven's name come down!

You speak not in the name of heaven... but of hell! You will never cast me down!

Higher and higher! That is my watch-word!

Look here, Mr. Prophet, do be sensible. Come on down. Look, I'm going down, too...

Yes! Go down! Return to the shades of hell, whence you should never have strayed!

Please, my dear Philip-pullis! It is I, Phostle, Director of the Observatory. Don't you remember?... We worked together, come down, I beg of you!

You are not Phostle! You have assumed his shape, but you are a fiend!... You are not Phostle!

But I'm Captain Haddock, by thunder... in command of this ship! And I order you to come down, blistering barnacles, and double quick!

I'm sorry. I take no orders, except from above! I'm staying here!
Come, down, by thunder, or I'll have you clapped in irons!

Don't argue any more. I know how to bring him down.

You'll see. He'll come down at once...

Hello, hello, Philippus the prophet! This is your guardian angel, speaking from heaven. I order you to return to earth. And be careful: don't break your neck!

Yes, sir. At once, sir. Don't be angry, sir....

There he is!

He's a patient from the mental hospital. We've been looking for him all day.

Next morning...

There's quite a crowd to see the "Aurora" sail.

And so, listeners, the moment of departure approaches. In a few minutes the "Aurora" will sail away, heading northwards, bound for Arctic waters. A little farewell ceremony is now taking place. The committee of the Society of Sober Sailors have just presented a truly magnificent bouquet of flowers to Captain Haddock, their Honorary President....

Goodbye, Captain, most worthy President. Never forget, the eyes of the whole world and the S.S.S. will be upon you. Good luck!

Bag pardon, Captain. Shall we put them in your cabin?

Put what, my lad?

Those....
...and here's the President of the European Foundation for Scientific Research with the leader of the expedition, Professor Phostle, handing over the flag to be planted on the meteorite.

I entrust this flag to you, Professor, confident that it will soon fly from the summit of the meteorite. I am sure you will find new metal, whose existence you announced.

There's something funny going on...

Thundering typhoons!

Read this, Professor. My radio operator has just picked up this signal... He intercepted it quite by accident, while he was testing his equipment...

São Rico. The polar ship "Peary" sailed from São Rico yesterday evening on a voyage of exploration in Arctic waters. The "Peary" will try to find the meteorite which fell in that area and which, according to experts, contains an unknown metal...

They've stolen a march on us! They'll take possession of the meteorite! All is lost... Hold on, they haven't found it yet!

Tintin's right. We've still got a chance...

All Hands Aboard Ship!... We sail at once!

Stand by to cast off!

TOOOOOT
The last moorings have been cast off. This is the moment of departure... The ship is moving slowly away from the quay. The "Aurora" has sailed... Sailed away in search of a shooting star...

You have been listening to an eyewitness account of the departure of the polar research ship "Aurora." The programme was relayed through all European networks.

Ha! Ha! Ha! I wish them the best of luck!

You're quite sure that they won't succeed...

Do as I do, Snowy. Breathe deeply. Fill your lungs with fresh air.
Let's go aft to the stern, Snowy. Anyway, it'll soon be time for lunch...

Look, Snowy, there's our seaplane up there, on its catapult. It will help in our search for the meteorite.

Ahoy there, steward! ... You can announce lunch. Everything's ready.

First service for luncheon!

Where's Snowy gone to? I don't see him about.

Hey, steward, what's the meaning of this? The menu says "Sausages and mash"! Right: where are the sausages?
That night...

Impossible to sleep a wink... She's rolling worse than ever... Fairly dancing a jig!

Meanwhile, in São Paolo...

Any further news of the "Kentucky Star"?

Nothing more, Mr. Bohlwinkel...

I've a good mind to go and join the Captain on the bridge.

Come on, Snowy, we'll go to the bridge.

Great snakes!... It's blowing a real gale!
Whew... I... honestly, I thought I'd been swept overboard. But Snowy!... Where's Snowy?

That was a near thing, Snowy!... Heavens, what a storm! What a frightful storm!

Oh, it's you... Nice little breeze, isn't it?

What?... A breeze? Isn't this a gale?

A gale? What an idea!... A mere draught, that's all.

So we aren't in any danger, then?... None. Still, you've got to be careful; visibility's almost down to zero... and the shipping lane we're in now, the North Channel, is a pretty busy one.

...Lots of ships use it... However, the chances of a collision are very slight... Each vessel has navigation lights, so...

Help! Thundering typhoons!
The lunatic! A little bit closer and he'd have cut us in two... He must be crazy sailing like that without any lights... He couldn't have judged it better if he'd meant to sink us...

And why not? That might be precisely what he intended.

Is that the "Kentucky Star" this time?

Yes, coming in now Mr. Bohlinwinkel. A radio signal...

S.S. Kentucky Star. Obeying orders received, attempted to sink Aurora. Operation miscarried. Awaiting instructions.

Would you mind if I opened the window a little bit? Some fresh air would do us good.

Aaaah!... I feel better already.

Do as you please... Just let me die in peace.

Pirates!... Shipwreckers!... Sea-lice!... Filibusters!... Hoodlums!... Road-hogs!... Freshwater swamp!

What do you mean? I mean, Captain, that someone's already tried to sabotage the "Aurora"... the night before we sailed. The accident we just avoided looks remarkably like another attempt...

What do you mean?

They've Failed! The bungling fools! Now we're back where we started!... But I'll get them yet!

Thundering typhoons!... You're right!... But who on earth...

Who would be anxious to prevent us carrying out our search? Who but the "Feary" expedition, or whoever has financed it?...

Oh, misery! I feel so ill! I feel horribly ill!

I feel sick... Ooooooh...
Brrr! It's cold this morning. It feels as if we're approaching the Arctic region.

Have you noticed? It froze last night.

You ought to put on warm clothes: you'll catch cold going about like that.

Come along, Snowy. We need our coats on.

I should have told him to be careful on the deck. This sheet-ice is really...

Now we'll go and say good morning to the Captain.

I'm going to cause a sensation!

Here, send this by radio.

Here, Mr. Bohlwinkel: it's a message sent by the "Aurora" to the European Foundation for Scientific Research. Our wireless operator just intercepted it.

Aha!... They're putting in at an Icelandic port! Excellent! Excellent! I think, dear Johnson, that their stay will be a long one... Let us begin by sending a short note. Take this down, Johnson...

M.S. Aurora to President, E.F.S.R. In sight of Iceland. Putting into port at Akureyri, in Eyjafjördur. For refuelling. All well on board.
Bohlwinkel, Bank to Smithers, General agent for Golden Oil, Reykjavik, Iceland. Circulate following order immediately to all agents for Golden Oil in Iceland: Absolute prohibition against refuelling polar vessel Aurora... There! Have that sent in the secret code.

Just long enough to fill up with oil. Then we set out for Greenland.

There... I'm going to order the fuel. It won't take a minute...

Good morning. I want my ship refuelled with oil.

Oh, no...

Golden Oil

Polar research ship Aurora'.

Captain Haddock...

Oh?... You're the Captain of... of the Aurora'?

What's that you say? No fuel oil!... That's absurd! I've got to have oil, d'you hear?

I assure you that I can't... I mean, I haven't got any oil...

Oh!... I... I've bad news for you, Captain. I suddenly remembered, we haven't a drop of fuel oil in stock...

That sounds like an argument...

It's disgraceful! I tell you! Disgraceful!

Remember! On your own head be it!

That's absurd! I've got to have oil, d'you hear?
Well? Well... What happened?

There's no fuel to be had from Golden Oil. Not a drop!

So what? We'll ask someone else, that's all. Someone else? Golden Oil have a monopoly of the sale of fuel oil through the country.

But that means... We're stuck here?

Yes, stuck. And in the meantime...

...The Peary continues her voyage!

Can't you look what you're doing, you seismic semaphore?

Me? A semaphore? ... You, why you're nothing but a...

Ah!

Fidy... Fidy!... Fidy!... Fidy!... Fidy!

Boodle, boodle, boodle!

Aye, aye, aye! Aye, aye, aye! Aye, aye, aye!

Dear old Chester!... Just the same as ever!

My dear Captain Haddock! You haven't changed a bit!

Tintin, let me introduce you to an old friend: Captain Chester, a shipmate of mine for more than twenty years. I'm glad to hear it. I thought you were going to kill each other!

You're waiting to refuel?

You've said it... What a country!... Not a drop of oil in the whole of this one-horse island!

No fuel!... But they've got plenty at Golden Oil. I was there just now. They're filling up my trawler "Sirius" tomorrow morning.

What? Someone's been having a me on!

Ten thousand thundering typhoons! I'll teach those pirates to play fast and loose with Captain Haddock!
Don't stop me! I'm going to exterminate those crooks!... The twisters!

Haddock, listen to me.

Calm down, Captain!

Listen to me. You're wasting your time. Do you know who's financed the "Peary" expedition? No! It was announced on the radio this morning. The Bohlwinkel Bank of São Rico. So what? I don't mind! Blistering barnacles. I need fuel oil!...

All right, all right. D'you know who owns Golden Oil?... No!... The Bohlwinkel Bank, of São Rico. Now d'you understand?

Let me go!... I'm going to tear those caterpillars into little pieces!

Wait, Captain, I've got an idea!

An idea? About getting fuel oil?

Yes.

Come on, we'll discuss this over a glass of whisky. Let's go into this bar.

Barman! A bottle of whisky, and three glasses, please. No whisky for me, thanks. I'll have tonic water. Two glasses, barman. And some tonic water for the lad.

By Jupiter, I've just remembered... I forgot you're the President of the Society of Sober Sailors. You don't drink whisky, of course. Tonic for you as well?

You're right... Tonic water... good idea.

That's enough!... Thanks.

Here's to you, Haddock! And to you!... Look, just to please you, I'll take a drop of whisky with my tonic... For old time's sake...

Only a drop... A thimbleful...

That's enough... Thanks!
Aaaaaaaaaaah!... The tonic in these parts does you a power of good!

Now, tell us your idea.

Look, where is your ship moored?

Yes, where's she moored, the "Sag", the "Sirius"?

The next morning...

I say, Captain, d'you think there's a leak in your tanks? They don't seem to be filling.

O.K., O.K.... They're big ones, that's all. Keep on pumping.

Just astern of the "Aurora".

That's fine!... And you're refuelling tomorrow morning?... Splendid!... Now, listen...

li-li-listen carefully, Chester. This boy always has ex-x-x-xellent ideas.

That's the lot, Captain! Our tanks are full....

Will you send off this cable?

"Smithers, Golden Oil, Reykjavik. Your orders carried out. Aurora stays here until you new instructions received. Signed Payne." That'll be seven kron... ur.

Good. That's the "Sirius" going out.... It's not the "Sirius"!... It's the "Aurora"!!
Good bye, old man!... Sorry to be leaving you!

So, we're on our way again. Now for some lunch.

Ah, here's the cook!... What have you dished up for us today?

Spaghetti, Captain.

CRASH

Dratted animal!... Wait till I catch him!

That's what comes of leaving doors open!

Come now, don't look so angry. It's no good getting cross: a waste of time. Anyway, someone enjoyed your spaghetti!

Just keep your sense of humour...

One must always keep one's sense of humour...

Billions of blue blistering barnacles!... Dratted animal!... Wait till I catch the little pirate!
A week later...

This is where we are. We've crossed the 72nd parallel. You will confine your search to an area between 73 and 78 North, and 8 and 13 West... You understand?

Right.

Above all, don't take risks: don't go beyond the limits we fixed.

And don't forget to maintain contact by radio. Goodbye, and good luck. Keep your eyes skinned for the meteorite.

Hello?... Hello?...

Hello?... Receiving you loud and clear... What?... You've seen something?

The meteorite?

Let's hope they don't run into any trouble.

Something peculiar. The sky's quite clear. But there's a great column of white vapour rising from one spot about 20° East.
How extraordinary. They've seen a great column of white vapour on the horizon.

Quick!... Give me the microphone.

This is Professor Phostle. Tell me, does the column of vapour seem to be coming from a definite point?...

You say there are no other clouds in sight? The sky is clear?

That's it!... They've found the meteorite!!

Careful!... The earphones...

Forgive me. I forgot! Yes, Captain, it's the meteorite causing the column of vapour. The heat emitted from it has already melted the ice. Gradually the water surrounding it is warming up.

Thus water-vapour is created, and this is rising up to form the clouds which they have seen.

Blistering bar-nacles!

Hello?... Hello?... Hello?... They're not answering any more!...

Tell me, Captain, should these wires be connected to anything?

Thundering typhoons!... The loads weren't plugged in!

There! That's Fixed it.

All right, we're returning.

Look down there!...

Hello?... Yes?... What did you say? Smoke?... Smoke from a ship?...

Where?... In which direction?...
Bearing west-south-west. Yes, we're heading in that direction...

Hello? Yes... They're steering towards the column of vapour! Thundering typhoons!... It's the "Peary", isn't it?...

It's not possible to identify her yet... But we'll soon know...

They're heading for the meteorite... We're coming back - fast!

The "Peary"!

Meanwhile...

R.S. Peary, 12°23' W, 76° 40' N, to Bolíwinkel, São Rico. Have been spotted by E.F.S.R. aircraft. Presume Aurora in vicinity. We are putting on steam.

I'm worried. I keep wondering how they'll manage to land without hitting one of those confounded icebergs...

There they are!

They're preparing to land... It'll be a miracle if they don't smash themselves up on an iceberg!
Well, Snowy old boy, if we get out of this in one piece we'll be lucky!

Thundering typhoons! They scraped against that one... and that one too... Whew! They just missed it!

We're done for this time, Snowy!

Hooray! He's a real ace!

The "Peary" is two hundred and fifty km ahead of us. We must overtake her!

Two hundred and fifty km ahead!!

No, Captain, we're not finished yet. Come on, let's have a look at the chart.

It's useless.
Look, the "Peary" is there... And this is our position. Our maximum speed is 16 knots. The "Peary" can't do more than 12 knots. We could therefore gain on them by 5 km each hour. They're 250 km ahead. So in 37 ½ hours we'd have caught up with the "Peary"...

Yes, unless they'd reached the meteorite by then...

Captain, we must try to overtake the "Peary"!... This is no moment to throw up the sponge, just when victory is in sight.

Tintin's right: we must try, Captain.

That's all very fine!... But to catch up 250 km!...

Impossible!... It's quite futile to try. We're going to turn round and go home...

All right... er... I say, Captain, I'm frozen to death after that reconnaissance flight. I think I need a little whisky...

Some whisky? You?... er... I'll just see if there is any...

You'll have a glass with us, won't you, Captain?

You bet! I will!

On second thoughts, I really do think the game is up. It'd be far better to give up the struggle...

Give up the struggle?... Never!... Blistering barnacles, this is no moment to throw up the sponge, just when victory is in sight! Thundering typhoons!... We'll show those P-P-Patagonian p-p-pirates what we can do!... The I-I-Irritated 1-1-land lubbers!

Come on! We shall see what we shall see!... Show a leg! On deck with you!

Get on with it, Chief! Thundering typhoons! Jump to it!... Full speed ahead! The enemy have 250 km start on us: we've got to catch them up!

Cox'n at the wheel! Stick to your course. Steer North by East. And watch out for icebergs!

Aye, aye, sir.
Noon next day...
Hooray!... There she is!... That's smoke from the "Peary"!

Captain! ... A signal!

We're steaming faster than she is!... We'll overtake them this evening, or during the night.

Gentlemen, I'd like to read you a signal we've just picked up. It's a distress call. The text is disjointed, as if the trans- mitter was damaged. Even the name of the ship is incomplete.

S.O.S. S.O.S. S.O.S. CIT... 70°45' N., 19°12' W. IN COLLISION WITH ICEB... TAKING WATER IN FOWAR...uest ASSISTANCE URGE...

There it is, gentlemen. Either we can go to the aid of this ship, and abandon all hope of reaching the meteorite before the "Peary", or else we can continue on our course, and not answer this call... It's up to you to de- cide.

There's no question about it, Captain. Human lives are in danger. We must go to their aid, even if it does cost us our prize...

I was sure of your answer, Professor. We'll go about right away... Bravo!
Come on. We must reply, and let them know we're coming to their assistance...

Polar research ship Aurora to Cîc... in distress. Your message received. We are steaming towards you. Keep in touch with us. Good luck!

Well?

That's the third time I've sent out the message... There's no reply.

I've forgotten to shut that confounded door again...

I suppose their radio has packed up for good...

Yes, unless...

Unless they have... gone down? Is that what you mean to say?

No, it's not that...

Captain, will you let me send out a message myself?

Naturally, but...

Is that the text of what you want to send? It's absurd! What does the ship's name matter to us?... Anyway, you'll spend all night waiting for replies.

You do as you like, but I think it's absolutely crazy. I'm going to turn in. Good night!

Good night, Captain... There. Could you send that off?

Right.

Polar research ship Aurora to all shipping companies. Please will all companies owning ships with name commencing "Cîc" please advise us immediately of full names of these ships. Also inform us if one is in distress, position 70°45' N, 14°12' W.
The next morning... Good morning, boys! How goes it? Anyone answered your message?

Is that all? Well, what is the name of the ship in distress? I still don't know! Here, look for yourself...

A fat lot of progress you've made! You don't even know the name...

Well?

We've got it. Here at last, the name of the ship. She's the "Cithara".

What are you looking for now? Her tonnage? Or her captain's age?... Tell me, what more do you want to know?

Just one last detail, Captain. I think it will interest you. The "Cithara" does NOT exist!

What do you mean... Look here, that's impossible! It's true, Captain! The "Cithara" does not exist. Nor does the John Kingsby Navigation Company. The names don't appear in the register of shipping! Someone has sent us a fake S.O.S.!

A fake S.O.S.! A fake S.O.S.!! Could the "Peary" have sent out the call to delay us?... No! No sailor would ever do that.

Billions of blue blistering barnacles! Pirates! They'll need a signal when I get hold of them!

Here. Send out the following message: Polar research ship Aurora to bogus John Kingsby Company. No... Deeply shocked by subterfuge... No... That's not strong enough... Gangsters! That's it... Gangsters! Twisters! Traitors! Woodlice! Turncoat! Shipwreckers! Mountebanks!

She has...
Quick, Captain, we must take up the chase.

And add: Rhizopods and Ectoplasm!

Helmsman ahoy! Wheel hard a starboard!

Hello, engine-room!... We're going after the "Peary" again. Increase your speed!

I wonder if we can possibly catch up with them...

Increase speed, captain?... It's impossible... We're going all out already!

I don't care how you do it!... But we must go faster!

A fake S.O.S.... The pirates!... You know, if it hadn't been for you, we'd still be going south!... By the way, what first aroused your suspicions?

Thundering typhoons! What's the matter?

I think I must have fallen asleep...

It's true, you've been up all night. Go and get some sleep now.

You're right. I'll go to my cabin for an hour or so.

Snowy!... Come on, Snowy.

Whoever invented a ladder like this? You can see he never owned a dog!

Snowy?... Are you coming?
I'm too fagged out to undress.
I'm asleep on my feet...
Still, you might remove my best bib and tucker.

Well, Snowy old boy, here's one who's going to sleep like a log.

It's me! Open up, quick!
... All right, coming...

Read this: it's a signal we've intercepted, from the "Peary."

R.S. Peary to Bohlwinkel:

They've beaten us!...
We're Finished!

No, we're not finished yet... The seaplane, Captain! Have the seaplane made ready...

... and warn the pilot. We're leaving right away.

O.K.
Hey! What about our sleep?

Now, Snowy, you've got to stay here till I come back...

Don't be silly, Snowy; I'll soon be back.
WOW-OW-OW-OW-OW!
Come on, Snowy. He won't be long.

Howling for the dead. A bad omen...

What is it now? He's suddenly cheered up.

Blistering barnacles! The plane's returning...

Hello, he's landing... What can that mean?

The flag! We forgot the flag to plant on the top of the meteorite. Thundering typhoons! So we did...

I'll go and fetch it.

There... OFF we go!

Snowy! Here, Snowy!

Tintin! Look out! You've got Snowy!
Oh Columbus!... They haven't seen him! Poor Snowy!
Oh my goodness!

The radio!... We must warn them by radio!...

Hello!... Hello!... Hello!
Hello!... Snowy's gone with you!... Yes, Snowy... He's clinging to the port wing of your aircraft.

We must land.
No, we've no time to lose...

Hello?... Hello?... Snowy is safe! Yes, I've got him here with me...

We're getting near... There's the cloud of vapour rising from the meteorite...

Some time later...
Hello, hello?... Captain Haddock here... Any news?
There isn't a single iceberg in sight, and the cloud of vapour is much nearer. We certainly can't be very far away now.

Hello... Tintin here... We can see the meteorite!!

Really? You mean that? ...You can see the meteorite!!... Hooray! ... What's it like?

It forms an island, sloping gently towards the west, and... Great snakes!... The "Peary" has beaten us to it!

The "Peary" has beaten them to it.

Tell me... I suppose their flag is already flying from the top of the meteorite!

Their flag?... Wait... No, I can't see a flag...

Hooray! Then there's still hope!

Perhaps I can just make out what's happening aboard the "Peary"... It looks as if... as if...

Yes... they're just lowering a boat...
This is it! The meteorite is ours!

Hello! That sounds like an engine to me...
There, Captain, it's an aircraft!

It's the seaplane from the "Aurora", confound it!

Bah! By the time they've come down on the sea and launched their rubber dinghy, our men will be ashore on the meteorite.

Anyway, it doesn't look as though they intend to land. They're simply flying over the meteorite...

Devil take it! He's jumped by parachute. He's going to land on the island and plant his flag!

Crumbs! The flag...

That was lucky!

There he goes! He'll arrive before us!

No! I know how to stop him!
Here comes the ground!

He'll get there before our lads.
We're beaten!

Not yet...

What are you doing, Frank? Have you gone crazy?

Help! The wind has carried me too far!

Pull!... Pull!... Harder!... Harder!... He'll get there before us!

Hooray! One more pull on the oars and we're there!
I can't do it. The cord won't come undone...

Victory! Our flag is flying over the meteorite!

Victory!!

There he is, landing.

Snowy's coming to join you. He won't stay with me any longer.

Come on then, Snowy... Woah!

Wilderness! Woooooo!
Snowy, my poor Snowy!... You must have banged against a rock!

Woaaaaaaah!

OW! OWW!...

Ow!... Yow!... Yeow!

Woaaah!

The water’s boiling!...

Hello?...

Hello?...

Hello!...

Hello, I am receiving you... Yes... What? Serious... three days... Yes, of course. Good. Right...

The "Aurora" has developed engine trouble and has had to reduce speed. She won’t be here for three days. We can’t wait: we have no supplies, so we must get back and rejoin her. Anyway, our mission is accomplished. Are you coming?

It’s impossible. Someone must stay here to guard the island: that’s only sense. So, what’s to be done?

There’s only one answer: I’ll stay here and wait for you to come back with supplies. All right?

Tintin, you don’t mean we’re going to stay all by ourselves on this island?

Right... I’ve got my emergency rations: a few biscuits, an apple and a flask of fresh water. I’ll leave them with you.

There...

Goodbye. And good luck. I’ll be back in the morning.

There he goes.

Thanks.

I’ll be glad when he’s back!
Now, Snowy, we’ll have something to eat...

An apple, ship’s biscuits and water: starvation, Snowy!

Starvation... that reminds me of Philippus the prophet, with his predictions of hunger and cold!

And that nightmare when he was threatening me: The judgement!... Yeet... Behold the judgement...

And the judgement was an enormous spider. Brrr! I still go cold at the thought of it...

A Spider!

Squash it, Tintin!

It’s disappeared among the rocks.

Leave it. Come on, Snowy...

Enjoy your supper, Snowy. Let’s forget that prophet of doom, with his spiders and his “dong-dong-dong”.

Dong, Dong

What an ass I am. It’s the bell on the “Peary”.

It’s their supper-time too, I expect...

Finished already, Snowy! I’m afraid I’ve nothing else for you. The two biscuits left are for tomorrow.

Golly! I’m still hungry! At least Tintin has an apple. If only I could find something to get my teeth into.

Ugh, there’s a maggot in this apple...

Whoops!

Are you coming, Snowy? We’re going to turn in now. I’m absolutely dead beat.
Our parachute will come in handy again. We can use it for a mattress and as a blanket.

Lucky for us the air is quite warm. It's extraordinary when we're so near the Pole.

Good night, Snowy. Keep a good lookout...

BOOM

?!

I thought I heard an explosion... Hello, the "pearly" has disappeared. She must have weighed anchor while we were asleep.

Still, that explosion?... I suppose I was dreaming...

BOOM

I've got it! It must be the island itself. It's probably a kind of small volcano... or a volcanic vent of some sort.

No! Not a sign of a crack, nor of a crater... So, now what?

Woah! Woah! Snowy's Pound something: he looks pleased with himself!

An egg! An egg!... Great snakes!... Who can have laid that?

Come on, Tintin, let's scramble it.

But... but... unless I'm seeing things... The egg: it's getting bigger!

It's not an egg! It's a mushroom!...
Yes, it's over. Whew! If that's the effect of the new metal, we're in for some more surprises!

Ssh!...

No, nothing. The sky is empty...

I thought I heard a buzzing, like the noise of an engine...

An apple tree!... Good heavens, it's an apple tree!... It must have been the core I threw away yesterday... It's incredible!... Fantastical...

I'm keeping an eye open in case the tree blows up too.

It must be magic!
Where did that huge insect come from? It can't be... Yes, it must have been... found in the apple!

Well, Snowy old man, if everything's going to start growing bigger, we're in a fine jam!

But... but... the spider!... The spider that escaped out of the box, last night...

I say, Tintin, you don't think that will have grown, too?

If it's still alive, it should be near the apple tree: that's where I was sitting yesterday.

Careful!... It might appear at any moment...

THUMP

Great snakes!
An earthquake! That's the last straw!

And what's that rumbling?

Help! That huge wave will swamp everything!

Whew!... Safe! The water isn't coming up any further.

I say, the whole island has tilted right over.

In the meantime more apple trees have sprung up.

Ssh!... Quiet!...

This time I'm sure of it... I can hear the sound of an engine.

Hey, what about the spider?

There Snowy!... The seaplane...

Hooray!... We're saved!

Oh, what a beautiful mo-o-orning! dd
Oh, what a tra-la la-la! ♪♫♪

Tro-la-la-la-la-la-la-la-la-la-la! ♪♫♪

Everything's going my way!

Crumbs! What a monster!

If only I can grab a stone...

Got one!... And it hasn't budged...

Now, take a good aim...

Missed it!

Great snakes! another earthquake!
Whew! That was close! Thank goodness for the apple tree!

Hello? Hello? ... The meteor-ite has just been shaken by an earthquake. The whole thing has tilted over, and is sinking slowly into the sea.

What did you say? ... An earthquake? ... The meteor-ite is sinking? ... What about Tintin? Where is he?

Can't see him... Oh, yes... He's lying at the foot of an enormous tree, quite still. The water will soon reach him.

We're losing the meteorite?

Try to land? ... Tintin must be saved!

Impossible to get down, Captain. The sea's absolutely raging!

Tintin! ... Tintin! ... Wake up!

Not a flicker. And the water's still rising! ... What can I do?

WOAAH! ... WOAAH!...

It's no good! ... But he simply must come round!
What's got into you, Snowy? Why did you bite me?

Quick, we must get a move on!

Now what's happening?... Great snakes! The meteorite's tipping over!

Quick, up to the top. The island is settling more and more...
Here goes! It's neck or nothing! I simply must save him!

I can't see him any more. I hope to heaven he hasn't crashed...

He made it! He managed to get down safely!

Now he's hidden by the waves again...

Hooshy! He's succeeded in launching the rubber dinghy.

I can't come any closer; I'd be dashed on the rocks. I'll throw you a line with a life-jacket attached. Hail! in the line and put the life-jacket on.

Right!

Here quickly, Snowy. We'll try to reach the dinghy...

Jump in? Me? Never again!

Snowy!... Snowy!... Come on, come here at once!
I don't want to go in the water! Wow!...Wow!

All right, stop crying. You aren't going in the water.

I'll throw you! Catch!

One... two...

No, he might fall in the sea. I'll try another way.

Come on, Snowy, get in!

That's Snowy safe! Now it's my turn. But first...

... I'll replace the flag. It must fly over the meteorite to the end.

I'll throw you the rope, and you can haul me across.

Right!

Here goes!
Got you!

Safe at last! Now, let's get out of here, fast!

What an idiot I am!

What are you doing? It's madness to go back!

For heaven's sake come back! You'll go down with the meteorite!

We must have a lump of the mineral... for Professor Phostle. Otherwise all our efforts will have been wasted!

Quick! Catch!

Tintin! I can't see Tintin!
The meteorite... The meteorite!

Meanwhile...

No sign of Tintin...

Yes, there, hanging on to the lump of phosphite... with the flag, too!

They're returning!... They're safe and sound!... Hooray!

It's them!... I've got them!

Hello?...

Hello?...

The seaplane!

Here you are. I've brought you a lump of phosphite... wrapped in the expedition's flag.
The polar research ship "Aurora", which sailed in search of the meteorite that fell in the Arctic, will soon be back in home waters. The expedition succeeded in finding the meteorite, just before it was submerged by the waves — probably as a result of some underwater upheaval.

Happily, thanks to the courage and presence of mind shown by the young reporter Tintin, alone on the island at the very moment...

...when it was engulfed by the sea, it was possible to save a lump of the metal divined in the meteorite by Professor Phistle. Members of the expedition have already verified the remarkable properties of the metal; examination of it will undoubtedly be of extraordinary scientific interest. We may therefore look forward to more sensational disclosures.

It is now known that certain incidents that occurred during the voyage of the "Aurora" were unquestionably deliberate acts of sabotage designed to cripple the expedition. Those responsible will soon be exposed, and their leader unmasked. This master criminal is reported to be a powerful Sao Rico financier. He will shortly be brought to justice.

Have you noticed how preoccupied the Captain has been lately?

Yes, I'll try to find out the trouble.

What's up, Captain?... Is something the matter?

Thundering typhoons! Land... and about time, too!

Why?... Are we out of fuel-oil?

Worse than that!... We're out of whisky!!

LAND HO! LAND HO!

THE END
